

BOOK OF THE MONTH: (SELECTED FROM MY LIBRARY)

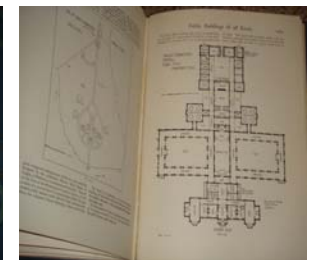

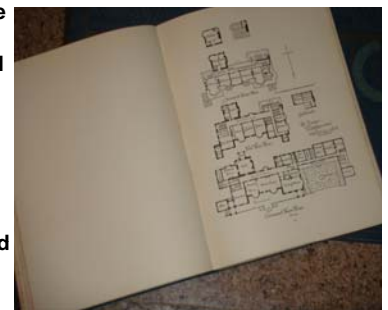

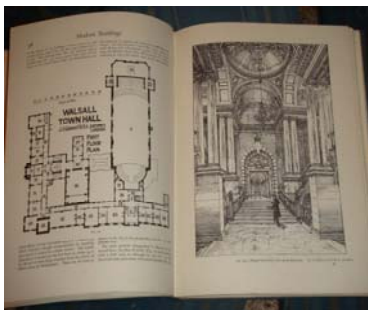

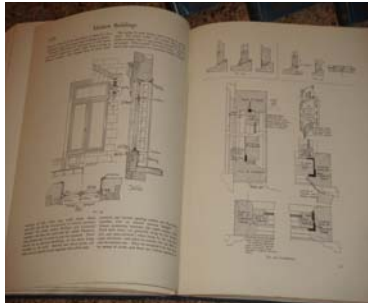

BOOK DESCRIPTION

Book Details:
Publisher: London, Caxton Publishing Company
Date: 1905
Language: English
Volume: Six (6), Hardcover, 200 pages

6 VOLUMES, double and single page color plates, numerous black and white plates, plans and in-text illustrations, approx. 200 pp each, index, 11 3/4 x 9 inches, gilt decorative cloth-covered boards (hardbound). Ex-library with minimal markings (small paper label at base of spine and occasional small stamps), rubbing to covers with boards exposed at corners, short splits to ends of spine, toning to endpapers, light fingerprint marks to a few pages; a good serviceable set with clean interiors. Sections include "School and Hospital Planning", "The Law of Easements", "Heating, Ventilating, and Lighting", "Steel Construction", "Town Houses, Shops, and Offices", "The Planning of Cottages and Country Houses", "Public Buildings", "Ecclesiastical Buildings", "Armoured Concrete and Masonry Construction", "Australian Planning and Construction", "South African Planning and Construction" and a section on miscellaneous buildings including fire houses, theatres, hotels, stables, dairies, library fittings, laundry fittings, fire stations, etc. Color plates include "Aldershot Fire Station" and "Suggestions for Ornamental Tiles by the Pilkington Tile & Pottery Co." Double page illustrations include "Design for a Draper's Shop", "Design for a Mineral Spring and Swimming Baths at at Spa", "Joiners Details of Door and Window" and an illustration showing domestic interiors.

Current price in the market: USD 245.00

Sample Pages