

Letter to a Talented Student

I enjoyed reading your brief biography and am glad to hear that you do have a collection of poems. You're the first student of mine who's capable of writing at all let alone poetry and who finds something interesting to do and think about. I think one should have a purpose in life to stay focused and to keep the joy of life alive inside .