Dear Dr. Reima

How are you? And how is level one with you? I hope everything is okay. In fact, I want to tell you something, the students in our class have complained a lot from one of our teachers. First of all, I respect her as a teacher but actually, her teaching style is so strange and sometimes we did not understand anything. When she asked me to write a composition I had a shock for every one - after she corrected them - because I had a lot of errors. Some times I had more than 22 errors in one composition! In the last lecture she said to the class: all the students will fail in the exam because your compositions are so bad. Maybe we will not pass the exam! Teacher believe me I lose my confidence that is very fearful. In the last semester, we did not have like this because our teacher style was wonderful and useful we understood all the writing rules in our book and we had not any complaints but you even encouraged us and made our compositions much better. But I have something to say, Carol is adopting the British method in her teaching. As I know they have specific rules for writing, they are different from speaking and I believe that I`m a student and not perfect in the writing I have many mistakes even in this letter. When I compare between you and her I feel that I am unhappy student because we lost the GRATEST teacher in the university. DR. could you please find a suitable solution for our problem? I a m so sorry for these boring complaints. my letter is impolite but I hope to help us as students and I want you to know how much we miss you.
