

At Disneyland

I am in Disneyland. This is my third day here. I walked too much the last two days, yesterday until 10 p.m. and the day before until midnight. You cannot believe how crowded it is. You wait in the line for at least 30 minutes and sometimes for 50 minutes in the hot sun. You also wait even when you go to the restaurant. The shows and fireworks were gorgeous. They are all on video. They have fireworks at Disneyland every night at 9:30. Friday night, I was in my room at the hotel and all of a sudden I heard the fireworks. I went to the balcony and I could see them. Saturday I was in Disneyland and I video-taped them all. After the fireworks there was a laser show and I video-taped the whole thing too. In the afternoon they had a parade. Yesterday I was at California Adventure, a new thing next to Disneyland. They had an electric parade. It was gorgeous. I also video-taped it and took pictures. Each hand was holding a camera (like a juggler). I remember when I was at Disney World in Florida three years ago, I ran out of film and took only one picture of the electric parade. After the electric parade, the fireworks started and I took still pictures. Then I walked back to the hotel
