

Figure 8.9 Operation of the photorespiratory carbon oxidation cycle involves cooperative interaction among three organelles: chloroplasts, mitochondria, and peroxisomes. Oxygen is consumed in each organelle. Shuttling of metabolites between organelles is evident from the localization of the participating enzymes.

