

Functional Relationship Diagram

Cardiac Investigation Unit located within a health facility including an interventional unit

The optimum external relationships include:

- Visitors access from a main circulation corridor with a relationship to the Main Entrance
- Separate entry and access for staff from hospital units to Administration